

American White Oak Wine Tanks

Paul Mueller Company oak wine tanks are the only American white oak wine tanks crafted in the United States. Known for creating smooth flavor profiles including vanilla, coconut, butterscotch and more, these eye-catching tanks allow gentle oxygenation for wine fermentation and maturation.

SEALED FOR QUALITY

Unlike French tanks that are butt jointed and can allow in too much air, our American White Oak tanks are crafted with finger-joints for the tightest seal.

CUSTOM TOASTING

Chosen from exceptional quality trees, the wood is dried in the open air for a year or longer to eliminate harsh flavors. Construction takes four weeks and the tank is steamed to sanitize the wood and further mellow the oak profile. The final finish is toasted to your specifications based on the varietal you are creating.

STAINLESS DETAILS

Complete with stainless steel bands and hardware, Mueller oak wine tanks come in standard, horizontal, fermenting and puncheon models and can be custom designed for your space. Equipped with valves and delivered fully assembled, with upgrade options available.
